Don't Throw That Bomb In Your Neighbor's Yard

The bomb disposal officer at Army Headquarters in Vancouver has some good advice this week. Don't heave that war souvenir into your neighbor's yard! "Be a real Canadian and handle your own hot potatoes," says he.

It all comes about due to publicity given exploding souvenirs. It seems that many of the boys who happily grabbed the relics are now getting cold feet about them . . . what with the kiddies growing up, and all, and some strange ways of disposing of the dangerous souvenirs are being resorted to.

Not all such souvenirs are dangerous, of course, but a large number of the shells and bombs so happily prized are "active."

Mr. and Mrs. Parkyn and Tommy have returned to their home at Royal Oak in Saanich.

Mr. Goodman, of the Government Film Board, showed several films, both entertaining and educational, to a group of interested people, on Friday evening in Pritchard's Hall. The residents of South Pender voted to become one of a circuit to receive films once a month from the board. It was also decided to form a social club to be responsible for the receiving and sending out of the equipment. Messrs. Pritchard, Teede and Murray were asked to do the necessary organizing.

The luxury yacht, Argosy, spent several days at South Pender this week. She has aboard a group of San Francisco business men on a fishing trip.

The fishing at South Pender is excellent at present. All boats report good catches of both salmon and grise.

Mr. and Mrs. Morley Bickford, with Donna and Carol, left Monday for a holiday in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young, Central Saanich Road, have as their guests their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Karen and Valerie, from Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Breitenbach received word from Pt. Angeles last week that their daughter, Mrs. Glen Peters, has a son, a brother for Lorraine.

Mrs. Karl Breitenbach left Monday for Pt. Angeles where she will visit her sister-in-law, Mrs. Emmert, and also Mrs. Glen Peters, during her convalescence.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Bryce returned to their home in Vancouver on Monday, having spent a week with Mr. Bryce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Bryce, Oldfield Road.

Mrs. A. McDonald and Danny returned Saturday from a week spent with Mr. and Mrs. K. Bloomfield, Moss Street.

Lieut. P. Thomas, recently of R.C.N., and Miss Colman, will join the staff at Mount Newton High school when school opens in September. The auditorium at Mount Newton High has been divided into two additional classrooms to accommodate the increased enrollment.

Mr. George Sinclair will be on the staff at Keating school, in place of Miss Jean Laidman.

Bob Aspinall returned to Vancouver Tuesday having spent some time visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aspinall, Keating Cross Road.

Miss Donna Gail Middleton was a guest of Miss Jean Butler for a few days last week.

BRENTWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil, with their daughters Marilyn, Sheila and Colleen, arrived last week from Vancouver to visit Mrs. O'Neil's mother, Mrs. D. Clark, and her aunt, Mrs. M. Ludlow, West

Saanich Road. Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil returned to Vancouver leaving Marilyn, Sheila and Colleen to spend a holiday here.

At the Dawson residence recently the Club 20 held their regular monthly meeting in the form of a corn roast, using the open barbecue. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Southwell and Mr. and Mrs. A. Burdon were host and hostess for the evening. Later the members adjourned to the penthouse for dancing.

SAANICHTON

E. P. Bompas, Prairie Inn, returned to his home Friday, after spending a few days with his brother the Rev. J. G. Bompas, of Alberni.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnstone, Saanichton, returned to their home after vacationing up-island for the past week.

Miss M. Todd, who has been confined to the Jubilee hospital is progressing satisfactorily at her home at the Prairie Inn.

Mrs. J. Stewart, East Saanich Rd., left Monday to spend a few days with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. Stewart, Seattle, Wash.

Miss Ada Essery, East Saanich Rd., who is an assistant at the Saanichton Post Office, is a patient at the Jubilee hospital.

Miss M. Leno, Simpson Rd., returned from a recent visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. Garrett, Everett, Wash.

ROTARIANS HEAR STORY OF "Y"

Bert Bath, past president of the Sidney Rotary Club, occupied the chair on Wednesday in the absence, on holiday, of Stan Watling.

Ten visiting Rotarians and guests swelled attendance at the regular meeting of the local group. Mr. Bath announced that the club would again sponsor the dance following the exhibition and fair at the Saanichton Hall on Labour Day. Norman Greenhill was welcomed into the club as a new member; classification, boat builder.

Guest speaker was Arnold Raymer, secretary of the Victoria Y.M.C.A. A native of London, Ontario, Mr. Raymer was introduced by Wallace Udy.

The speaker told of his duties at the "Y" since 1926 when he received his first appointment as physical training assistant. Following training in Chicago, U.S.A., and Hamilton, Ont., he saw service in many branches of the association both in Canada and the United States. Mr. Raymer told of his work in the Polish section of Evanston, Illinois, U.S.A., and of the service the "Y" had been able to render youth during the depression years.

Illustrating his talk, he told of how a policeman, walking his beat during the depth of winter, found a young boy obviously suffering from cold, selling newspapers. The policeman approached the youngster, pulled the peak of his cap, and said: "Who do you think you are?" The kid replied: "I'm the stuff they make men of."

The speaker closed with a strong plea for support for the

SHOULD WE JUMP ON THE BAND WAGON?

WHILE many residents of the more thickly-settled area of North Saanich complain bitterly about the Municipal Aid and Social Security Tax, few have thus far suggested that the benefits of the tax be fully utilized. The very name of the tax tells of its purpose. It will be used to bolster the finances of organized areas for needed civic improvements. The Port of Sidney could well utilize some of these dollars, and from all reports, the tax-dollars will soon be flowing into the government treasury.

The one requirement is that incorporation take place, in other words, each district is required to run its own show, to collect and to dispense tax monies and to maintain streets, law and order.

Assistance rendered such incorporated areas is not slight. Already a percentage of automobile licence money is paid to villages and municipalities, a percentage of liquor profits is also returned, and as this is based on turnover, the yield from this source alone should be a sizeable sum.

Dog and other licences, now paid direct to the provincial government, is another source of revenue, all this, of course, is in addition to the regular land taxes now paid to provincial treasury.

One of the chief values of incorporation is that sidewalks, lighting and other improvements may be paid for by those who desire and need them. The whole district need not pay for a general district-wide plan, say, for street lighting. But if residents on one street expressed a desire for lights and were willing to pay for them, over a period of time, then a "local improvement" plan could be utilized and the work done.

Under incorporation the machinery for self-government is set up.

It enables those who are in the organized area to proceed with planned work immediately, there is no longer need to wait, hat in hand, asking for the government to do "what they can."

There is no doubt but that incorporation can do much for those areas which are fairly well settled, it is the only answer for a progressive planned campaign administered by those best suited for the work, the people who live in the district.

Outside of incorporation as a sound forward step, the very fact that residents here are paying a sizeable sum of money each month for "Municipal Aid," would suggest that the wisest thing to do is to climb on the band-wagon and reap some of this harvest.

THE SEAMS BULGE

VARIOUS experiments in so-called progressive legislation would indicate that while the idea is good, the foibles of human nature make us not ready for such strict "cradle-to-the-grave" regimentation.

A recent innovation of the New Zealand government to make medicine free to those who need it shows signs of breaking down.

Under the scheme any medicine prescribed by a doctor is supplied free to the patient on presentation of the prescription form to the druggist. The result has been a terrific increase in medicine prescriptions. Many druggists now are forced to spend most of their time supplying the free medicine, which is, of course, paid for from general revenue of the nation.

Lord Beveridge, the British authority on social security and the author of the "Cradle to the Grave" theory commented acidly after visiting New Zealand. He noted the great increase in consumption of medicine and expressed the hope that doctors had enough sense to make the medicine harmless.

The high court of the Commonwealth of Australia on Wednesday August 11, ruled the government's proposed Nationalization of commercial banking unconstitutional. Among other things the Court held the legislation to be contrary to Section 92 of the Australian Constitution which says that trade between the States shall be absolutely free.

Commenting on the judgement Robert Rae, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association said, "While the Constitutional relationship in regard to banking in Australia is not on all fours with Canada, no doubt the essential principle on which the judgement was based is common to both countries. This is that the government ownership of commercial banking jeopardizes its present impartiality and potentially interferes with freedom of commerce.

That principle applies equally to Canada. Once bank credit accommodation is made subject to steering or direction based on political considerations of a party in power, or even open to that possibility, freedom of commerce or of any kind of trade is beyond all effective guarantee. Availability of bank credit does not now depend even to the slightest degree on political creed or social doctrine.

It never should. In Australia, too, there was a manifest fear of political intrusions into the money affairs of the private individual. This fear became so potent that the socialist government actually sought to allay it by writing a provision into the proposed legislation. My information is that it quite signally failed to reassure the hard-headed depositors and borrowers of Australia."

These two instances would indicate that some years of education is required before the free people of the world are ready for the many extraordinary measures presented for their improvement both physically and financially. Society slowly builds a set of principles which become workable due to their universal observance. We, in Canada, have built our society upon the principle of free enterprise. It is still the privilege of any individual to launch into a project and gloriously "go broke." It would appear that that privilege, strange as it may appear, is what the people of the country want.

Fighting with each other causes trouble. Fighting for each other solves it.

In emergency we help our neighbour. But why wait for an emergency? The right time to do the right thing is right now.

September

September! Amber-hued and rare!
With vivid winds the past away is blown,
Light are the cares upon my soul,
Nearer and nearer seems the visioned goal!
My heart upborne upon the freshened air,
Cleaves the clear sky to heights unknown.

—June Denholm.

Beauty Suffers For Man-Made "Progress"

First tentative clearing for a sawmill and pulp mill on Vancouver Island is shown near Campbell River. Soon this scene will be transformed from the rustic beauty of nature to the man-made beauty of buildings and cultivated gardens. With the greatest demand ever for the products of British Columbia natural resources, factories and buildings are on the increase on the Island. Indicative of this spurt in production is the report that 250,000 tons of iron ore have been ordered from Texado Island by Japan.

Victoria Daily Times Cut.

OUT OF THE MIST

By KIPPER.

Attending a professional baseball game the other night it was a surprise when, at the opening of the seventh inning, everyone stood while the band played "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

Your Kipper stood, with his lady, and wiggled the part which had been sat upon for six innings. He smirked at the chap next door (who had been screaming epithets to the umpire all night) and murmured to his lady that this was a wise plan, giving the customers a chance to stretch.

We are informed, however, by no less an authority than Joe Mitchell, that this habit is general throughout the land. You don't stand to wiggle tired parts, you stand for good luck at the beginning of the lucky seventh inning.

Cornered George Sparling the other evening and insisted on knowing exactly what to use to catch a salmon. Sparling has a theory about the length of leaders . . . has to be just so long; sorry I can't give the figures, they are under lock and key. What caught the Kipper eye, however, wasn't the length of the leader, but the Sparling drawers. The most useful garment for males yet invented. They look like a cross between what Olympic athletes slip into after running a race and what the Eastern Potentate who is always surrounded by Petty Girls wear. "Trouble is George hasn't the stomach to go with 'em, the pantaloons, I mean. You just slip 'em on . . . no, not the stomach, the pants, and they are made of a sort of terrycloth, you can wear them anywhere."

Stan Magee and Jack McLellan are having fun with their latest contrivance at the M & M Radio Store. The Wire Recorder is a most interesting dingus. Records practically anything and plays it back ad infinitum. It's the gadget they use on candid interviews and causes lots of surprise when one hears one's own voice. . . . "That's not me," is the common retort, say the boys.

The report of the Hangar Fire last week made only a brief mention of K. J. Robinson, Department of Transport Station Manager. One could almost get the impression that he was sitting comfortably in his own office (which is another hangar) "guarding the station's papers."

"Twat not so."

As Mr. Robinson is charged with the welfare of the entire station the fact that a hangar was burning was of more than ordinary interest to Mr. Robinson. It is true that he guarded the station's papers, then he got right in there and fought like Billy O with the firemen to save his hangar.

ENGLISH JOURNEY

By WALTER R. LEGGE

This is the sixth in a series of articles, specially written for The Review, covers a visit to England recently completed. Within short bus ride journey from Amersham are two places that should be on the "must see" list of every visitor to England, Windsor Castle and Hampton Court Palace.

One who has been at Windsor Castle and Hampton Court Palace will be able to tell you that there is so much to see. The town itself is an interesting old place but the Castle is worth the whole journey to England. The usual pictures of Windsor Castle give little indication of the real size and grandeur of the many buildings. It is known that there was a castle here in the days of William I. (1066 to 1100) but the present castle was started by Edward III. (1327 to 1377) and succeeding kings.

As everyone knows, the Royal family spent much of their time at Windsor Castle but when they are absent, visitors are shown through the state apartments by expert guides who lecture in each room. These are not the private apartments of the Royal family, which are in another part of the Castle. It is impossible in the space available to adequately describe these state apartments but the following is a brief summary in the order visited. The China Museum contains a valuable collection of services of Worcester, Wedgwood, Aynon, Copeland, etc. made for various kings.

The Grand staircase has a suit of armour made for Henry VIII, colours of many regiments, arms and armour.

King Charles II. Dining Room has a ceiling painting by Verrio of a Banquet of the Gods; Grindly Gibbons carvings, and priceless pictures, furniture and tapestries.

The Rubens Room is so called because of the number of paintings by that artist on the walls. It's used as the principal apartment during State visits. This room also has valuable furniture and porcelains.

The State Bedroom has a State Bedstead made 1774-1793 and the walls are covered with green silk damask. Here also are priceless paintings and furniture.

The King's Closet and the Queen's Closet are two more large rooms with period furniture and magnificent paintings.

The Picture Gallery, used as a Writing Room during state visits is known as the Picture Gallery on account of the number of masterpieces of great value. There are over 100 paintings by such artists as Holbein, Rubens, Rembrandt, etc.

The Van Dyck Room is so called because most of the paintings are by that artist and there are many fine pieces of furniture.

The Queen's Audience Chamber has another fine ceiling painting by Verrio and three magnificent panel tapestries of Gobelin.

The Queen's Presence Chamber also has a ceiling painting by Verrio and wonderful furniture and pictures.

The Guard Chamber has an armour clad equestrian figure, a fine collection of historical swords and batons, as well as busts, tapestries, pictures and furniture.

St. George's Hall, built by Edward III, to hold the banners of the Knights of the Garter, is 185 feet long and 30 feet wide. The decorations include the shields of Arms of all Knights of the Garter from the foundation of the Order in 1344 to the present day, and busts of about 24 kings and members of the Royal Family.

The Grand Reception Room has six huge Gobelin tapestries.

The Throne Room is where many Royal investitures of the Order of the Garter have taken place. The pictures are of Sovereigns in their Garter Robes.

The Ante Throne Room has five paintings by Zuccarelli, busts and Louis XV. tables.

The Waterloo Chamber has a mahogany table capable of seating 150 persons. The walls are covered with Heraldic Badges and over 40 paintings of celebrities.

The Vestibule, filled with cases of souvenirs of historical events, and other objects, forming a museum of great interest.

It would take days to really study the apartments but the visitor must keep up with the guide and party. It was noticeable that the guide never used superlatives such as "the finest in the world" although there is no doubt that many items could be so classed. There were over 9,000 visitors to the apartments on the day we were there.

The Queen's Doll's House is another section open to the public but we did not have time enough to visit it.

Equally interesting is the St. George's Chapel which is one of the most beautiful and interesting buildings in England.

Here again an expert guide conducts parties of visitors and points out each item of interest and here again, hours could be spent studying the details.

St. George's Chapel is where many kings and queens are buried including Henry VIII, and his Queen, Jane Seymour; Edward VII., Queen Alexandra; George III., George IV., Henry VI. and many others.

Our guide showed his sense of dramatics as he told of the body of Charles the First being smuggled past sentries into the chapel for burial at the dead of night. For a long time it was doubted if it really was the body of the king and if he really was beheaded. Years later the body was exhumed and found to be really the body of Charles the First and the head was separate from the body.

We were fortunate in seeing the extensive and massive old altar vessels which are not usually on view, but had not been removed after a special service that morning.

Lovers of fine architecture are richly rewarded for a visit to St. George's Chapel for although it is not as old as many other church buildings it is far richer and the stone vaulting is glorious. It is hard to tear oneself away from this gem of England.

Going out on the north terrace of the Castle a glorious view is obtainable over the countryside and in the foreground are the buildings of Eton, one of England's great schools.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By "ANDY" JOHNSON

A few years ago I was asked to give a hand installing some batteries on our nearby Lepor colony. As this entailed heavy work not to my liking I got out of it by the simple process of showing a press pass to the caretaker, and he, good fellow, did the rest. With the admonition "Don't touch anything," he took me into the cabin of the "Golden Resident," who occupied his time by tapping a left ribcage with a 10 lb. lead mallet in the right hand, in an effort to keep time with the beat of an alarm clock resting in a tin bowl on the table. There were two more victims, one a white woman and the other a Japanese but, as the caretaker had hinted that "she may not like it" and as the Japanese was her constant shadow, I refrained from motives of delicacy intruding on their daily walk. Not being able to hear with exemplary fortitude the sufferings of others, I left the island with mixed feelings, and have wondered often since whether they, in their simple way, enjoyed existence more than we.

CORRESPONDENCE

Dear Sir,—I would like to take the opportunity to pass on the odd bouquet that our local fire department has received in connection with the fire in the TCA hangar on August 21; to Miss Lettie Bowker who was the telephone operator who relayed the alarm to the fire hall and later assisted Miss Mary Enos in answering the many calls and enquiries. Credit is also due Sherman Leak who did a good job in looking after the water pressure in the station mains. And just to keep the records straight, K. J. Robinson, the Department of Transport station manager, was not looking after his records in the next hangar, but was an early arrival at the fire and right in there fighting with the rest of us.

Yours truly,

G. A. GARDNER,
Chief, Sidney Volunteer

MOVIES---UNDER THE STARS

TO A "Drive-In" movie we went in Tacoma, the originator of such . . . should have a diploma. It's the easiest way to see a show, just jump in your car and off U go. You don't need to hunt for a parking spot, you drive right in . . . their great big lot. The wife wears a house-coat or any old rag, the kids can eat popcorn while U smoke a tag. No need for a sitter to park her big feet, you just throw the kids . . . in the back seat.

IT'S EASY TO PARK down by OUR store, we've bargains today . . . simply galore. Like 129 for a davenport suite, a double-feature . . . hard to beat.

Their Announcer understands . . . a family man, 'cause over his "mike," he outlines the plan. "If's intermission now, if the kids 'have-to-go,' take them down the steps . . . 'It's below.' Then YOU can relax in Sedan or Jeep, 'cause soon in the back . . . they'll fall asleep. I sed, "C'mon gals to this underground," coffee and coke there we found. Then we went back and got in the car, "Jeannie Crain," was the wistful star. But OUR kids didn't curl up and go bye-bye, in fact they didn't . . . even try.

TRY AND FIND TIME to see "THIS," if you are looking for a dining-room suite . . . it's an "in-between" size with 6 chairs, large table, and thoughtful buffet . . . warehoused $145 in solid maple . . . walnut finished.

BUT I NOTICED when . . . we were down below, other kids were in pyjamas . . . each with kim-o-no. The queerest sight you ever did see, hundreds chasing each other . . . in that W.C. Having themselves a heck of a time, out at the movies . . . past their bed-time. This their favorite game, with the best rewards, yanking each other's . . . pyjama cords. Our gals marvelled at these rolings-on, and down their noses ran liquid upon. As back we went and got in the bus, and all settled down . . . with no more fuss.

YOU COULD SETTLE DOWN with THIS chesterfield in your home . . . it's "American-modern" in the new color . . . "American Beauty" Rose mohair . . . the rocker is in turquoise . . . it's REALLY sumptin'.

A SPEAKER is hung on your window pane, the volume of which . . . soup up or restrain. The front of your car is ramped up a bit, so it's easy to see . . . wherever you do sit. But just WHAT they do in for, or rain???? but that'll be solved by some clever brain. And it is MY guess, as time goes by, more 'n more "Drive-Ins" . . . under the sky. The grandest way to entertain, as you never need stand, or your neck up to "CRAIN." Never need line-up out on the street, and U can park your shoes on the back seat. And you're NOT too close, nor need binoculars, at these outdoor movies . . . UNDER THE STARS.

The Fraser Valley Dyking Board will shortly embark upon its main program of dyke reconstruction which it is estimated will cost somewhere between five and six million dollars with tenders being called for the main construction program within the course of the next few weeks. It was announced by Premier Byron Johnson.

The Premier explained that the board had divided its work into two programs; namely, the emergency work, which is designed to bring all dykes back to their former condition so as to meet immediate needs, and the main program of reconstruction.

In all there are 241.8 miles of dykes, of which 220 miles require strengthening and rebuilding. This includes some new dyking in the Sumas, Agassiz and Chilliwack areas. These dykes protect approximately 200,000 acres of land and affect approximately 50,000 persons. The dyking work will be similar to that which has been constructed along the Missouri River. The dykes will be built with the best material available within reasonable haul and in most cases will comprise a mixture of light clay and sandy loam. Widening and heightening of these dykes will be accomplished by putting down this material in 12-inch layers and compacting with a caterpillar tractor. The program calls for a width at the top of 12 feet in order to carry gravel road eight feet or nine feet in width with appropriate turnouts. The cost of the emergency and main construction programs is expected to be $10,000,000.

LANDS DEPARTMENT APPOINTMENT

The Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests, has announced that the head of the topographic division of the Survey's branch of his department is A. G. Slocumb, B.C.L.S.

POTATO BLIGHT AND "LITTLE CHERRY"

The Hon. Frank Patnam, minister of agriculture, announced that the late blight—phytophthora infestans—is threatening the potato crop of the entire province. He stated that it is not too late to save the crop if farmers will act by spraying with a mixture of 20 pounds of bluestone and 10 pounds of common salt per 100 gallons of water spread over the potato crop at the rate of 100 to 125 gallons an acre. The potatoes should be dug two weeks after spraying, when the weather is warm and dry, and the tubers allowed to dry out before storing. As an extra safeguard, they should be stored at 60 degrees for two weeks, to allow infected tubers to rot, and in this way the good can be separated from the bad.

The minister also reported that "Little Cherry," a virus disease which made its first known appearance in the world in the Kootenay district of British Columbia, now has infected 85 per cent of the cherry trees in that district. The disease reduces the quality so that the infected cherries are suitable only for jam production. The only known control is destruction of the diseased trees.

FOREST FIRES

The number of fires recorded this year is the lowest during the past 10 years, it was announced by the Hon. E. T. Kenney, and the cost to the service of fighting fires has been lower than in any other year during the past ten, except in 1943. So far this year there have been 712 fires recorded and the cost of fighting them has been $38,280 for the forest service.

TOURIST TRADE

Figures released today by the Hon. Leslie H. Eyres, minister of trade and industry, disclose that the volume of traffic entering the province on travellers' vehicle permits was less in July of this year than for the same month of last year. Where 37,856 cars entered by border ports in July, 1947, only 34,516 came in last month.

"This is disappointing, but after all not so very surprising," said Mr. Eyres. "There is no doubt that the flood conditions which prevailed throughout the entire Pacific Northwest in May and June gave rise to many cancellations and caused a great many people to abandon their plans for a July vacation in the Evergreen Playground."

NEW SHELLFISH BRANCH

The Hon. Leslie H. Eyres, minister of fisheries, announced that the department is presently planning a new research service to shellfish growers. Plans include offering what might be termed operational research service to oyster growers and others interested, with a view to increasing the yield by the application of scientific knowledge to solving the many problems in connection with the growing and cultivation of shellfish.

A Report on the 'Phone Situation

Although the B.C. Telephone Company and Associated Companies are installing three times as many telephones as before the war, there still is a waiting list of approximately 23,000 applicants throughout our system.

This high installation rate is being carried on in the face of continued severe shortages of all types of telephone equipment. More than 40,000 telephones have been added to our system since January 1, 1946. But offsetting our efforts to give telephone service to all the people who want it is a demand greater than ever before. A 27 per cent increase in B.C.'s population since 1941 has made it the fastest growing province in Canada.

B.C. IS NOT ALONE

Again we stress the point that inability to give service to all who want it is not peculiar to B.C. but is a continent-wide situation. For example, the Bell Telephone System of the U.S., largest telephone system in the world, has a waiting list of over 1,300,000 applicants.

During the first six months of this year, Our System: Handled more than 1,200,000 local telephone calls per business day—a 64 per cent gain over the corresponding six months of 1939.

Had a total of 2,800,848 filed long distance calls—an increase of 244 per cent over the same period of 1939.

MORE ABOUT ENGLISH JOURNEY

land's most famous boys' schools. In the town of Windsor at almost any time can be seen boys with the caps, uniforms, and tappers worn by various groups of students.

The following interesting item about Eton was clipped from a recent daily paper:
"A woman I know put her son down for Eton soon after he was born, 12 years ago."
"His name went on the general waiting list. This was a mistake. His mother should have made sure it was on a housemaster's list. 'So unless there is a failure among the examinees in September, he stands no chance of going to Eton in the autumn. Hundreds more boys are waiting for such chance vacancies."

"Fees at Eton are now £278 a year. Nevertheless, lists are full until 1960."
Only a half hour's bus ride from Windsor is Hampton Court Palace which I visited on another day. It was built by Cardinal Woolsey when he was the richest and most powerful man in England. His household numbered 500 and 280 guests rooms were always ready for guests.

Woolsey presented it to King Henry VIII, who made it one of the most luxurious palaces in the kingdom.

It is now preserved by the Ministry of Works as an ancient monument and historic building. Visitors may go through the various apartments which are full of period furniture, priceless paintings, tapestries, etc.

The gardens at Hampton Court Palace are extensive and very beautiful, and the most widely known feature there is the famous Maze probably planted in the reign of William III. The hedges which line the paths of the Maze are 6 feet high and two feet thick, but looked to me as if they were dying. Perhaps they will be better later in the summer.

Another feature is the Tiltyard garden where tournaments were held in the days of Henry VIII. It is seven acres in area, enclosed by high brick walls and five towers provided accommodation for the spectators.

Hampton Court Palace and grounds are on the banks of the Thames and river steamers make frequent trips up and down the Thames carrying passengers to such places as Richmond, Kingston, London, etc., at a small charge.

I went on one of these steamers to Kingston which is a busy centre with many interesting old buildings among fine modern ones. It was market day and I had a chance to see another of these outdoor markets which are a feature of many towns.

School Board, Staff Prepare For Heavy School Registration

With two additional classrooms ready for service, Saanich School Board have prepared themselves for a heavy registration in district schools on September 7.

Secretary K. Sparks is busily preparing new routings of the district buses and the manifold details for the transportation of the school population.

St. Andrew's Hall in Sidney and the Women's Institute Hall at Brentwood have been rented for temporary classrooms. Both will house Grade 2 pupils. Mrs. Murphy will register a class at St. Andrew's Hall and Miss Bailey at the W.I. Hall, Brentwood.

Some 30 students will be transported daily from Royal Oak school to Cordova Bay. This will save furnishing a basement room at Royal Oak.

New appointments announced by the board include:
Peter Thomas to Mount Newton school; Miss G. L. Low, to North Saanich; Miss Margaret McKenzie has resigned, she will be married shortly; Miss Low will take her place on the staff.

Miss F. Heath, at Cordova Bay; Miss Mary Millich, Sidney school; Miss Pauline Galloway, McTavish school; Miss Netta Jones and Miss Thomasina Miller, to North Saanich; Miss Peggy MacPherson to West Saanich; Miss Margaret Cameron to Prospect Lake; Mrs. Geo. Sinclair to Keating school, and Mrs. G. Conlan to James Island.

Transfers include Mrs. M. Ewen from Cordova Bay to Royal Oak;

Miss Alice Coleman from Deep Cove to Mount Newton high school; Mrs. Murphy from McTavish to Sidney school; J. Colvin from Royal Oak to Deep Cove.

Pretty Wedding At Salt Spring Island

St. Mary's church, Salt Spring Island, was the scene of a pretty wedding at 3 p.m., on Wednesday, August 18, when Sadie Edith, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hele, Ganges, B.C., became the bride of Stanley McKay, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. McKay, Union Bay. Ven. G. H. Holmes officiated and Mrs. G. B. Young presided at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a gown of heavy white satin, fashioned with tight-fitting bodice, sweetheart neckline and long sleeves pointed over the wrists. Her shoulder-length veil of embroidered net was held in place by a beaded coronet and she carried a shower bouquet of pale pink shaggy asters, pink rosebuds, white stocks and asparagus fern.

The bride's only attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Sidna Hele, who wore a gown of pale blue net over satin of similar hue, short sleeves, long matching mitts and halo headdress of blue and pink, she carried a Colonial bouquet of cream asters and cream rosebuds. The bestman was Sidney McKay, brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception for about 50 was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the young couple were assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Hele and Mrs. McKay.

The toast was proposed by Gavin C. Mount.

Following a honeymoon on the mainland Mr. and Mrs. McKay will make their home at Cumberland.

SHOWER HONOURS
AUGUST BRIDE

Members and friends of the Salt Spring Island branch of the Women's Auxiliary honoured Miss Sadie Hele recently, before her marriage on August 18, to Stanley McKay.

A miscellaneous shower, held at the home of Mrs. P. Sharpe, saw many gifts concealed under a large floral bouquet made by Miss Marion Norton. Tea was poured by Mrs. W. Norton and Mrs. Sharpe, assisted by Mrs. E. Adams, Mrs. B. E. Biggs, Mrs. J. Bond, Misses Peggy Mount and Marion Norton in serving. Those present included: Mrs. A. Aylwin, Mrs. H. C. Carter, Mrs. Guy Cunningham, Mrs. Dave Pyvie, Mrs. N. Howland, Mrs. V. L. Jackson, Mrs. G. J. Mount, Mrs. R. Nichols, Mrs. W. M. A. Robinson, Mrs. Frank Stevens, Mrs. P. C. Statements of Fact--3

"He is happiest who works with his hands."—Chinese proverb.

B.C. ARTS AND CRAFTS were asked by the Rotary Club last Saturday to produce a mammoth sign for the Fire Hall Benefit Dance on Sept. 6th. In eight colours, the job was completed in a day and erected on Saanichton Hall on Monday. We feel that the Local Volunteer Firemen deserve quick response to a call for help in return for the smart way they "drop everything and run" to save our lives and properties. This same line of thought reminds us that the spirit behind the Local Fire Brigade extends to the gang who move huts. Gardner and Levar have done it again! They have this week moved our second building, over thirty miles of rough roads, with cool efficiency, and have put it on the site with such precision that they might have been cracking an egg without breaking it. The co-operation of the bosses and the boys at work, has to be seen to be believed. Likewise, we ourselves endeavour to give similar satisfaction and we hope you will never fail to find co-operation and courtesy at . . .
